READING YOUR STATEMENT

Any transactions or activity after the date this statement was issued will be on your next statement.

If your loan terms allow daily interest-rate adjustments, the interest that accrues for each day between the date this statement was issued and the payment due date may be estimated based upon the interest rate in effect on the date this statement was issued. We will adjust the payment due on a subsequent Loan Statement to account for any difference between the estimated and actual accrued amounts for this billing period.

The Loan Information and Year-to-Date sections show current year-to-date loan and escrow information. The payment details sections show Current and Past Due Payment information along with the Total Payment due. The Transactions section shows transactions on your loan since your last statement.

MAKING YOUR PAYMENT

Please do not combine any other CHASE payments with your commercial mortgage payments. You may make your loan payment in any of the following ways:

- Automatic withdrawal (AutoPay) from your designated checking or savings account. You may specify a draft date up to two days before the last day of your late charge grace period.
- Mail.
- At one of our branches. You may make payments at your local Chase financial center. Please remember to take your coupon or have your loan number with you.
- Overnight delivery.
- Wire transfer.
- Pay Connexion—payments by phone.

LATE CHARGES

Your payments are due on the Payment Due date shown on the front of this statement. If your loan provides for a grace period, we will not assess a late charge until the grace period expires (see Late Charge Information on the front of this statement). The postmark date is not considered; your payment must be received before the end of the grace period to avoid a late charge.

RETURNED ITEMS

If your payment is returned unpaid by the financial institution on which it was drawn, we will assess a return item charge.

MAILING ADDRESS CHANGES

Please tell Customer Care if your mailing address changes.
