Interest Charges (Periodic Finance Charges): For each advance, interest charges begin to accrue on the date of the transaction (for Ready Credit and Custom Credit Line, the date of the transaction is the day we pay your check or otherwise make funds available to you through your Account). For Ready Credit Accounts, Custom Credit Line Accounts, former EAB Credit Accounts, former EAB Home Equity Credit Accounts, and former Cal Fed Home Equity Line of Credit Accounts, we figure interest charges on your account by applying the daily periodic rate to the "average daily balance" on your account. To get the "average daily balance" we take the beginning balance on your account each day, add any new loan advances, and other charges (other than late charges, credit life insurance, unpaid interest charges, or annual fees), and subtract any unpaid interest, or other finance charges and any payments or credits. This gives us the daily balance. Then, we add up all the daily balances for the billing cycle and divide the total by the number of days in the billing cycle. This gives us the "average daily balance."

To calculate the interest charge, we multiply the average daily balance by the number of days in the cycle and then multiply the result by the daily periodic rate. For all other accounts, we figure interest charges on your account by applying the daily periodic rate to the "daily balance" of your account for each day in the billing cycle. To get the "daily balance" we take the beginning balance on your account each day, add any new loan advances, and other charges (other than late charges, credit life insurance, unpaid interest charges, or annual fees), and subtract any unpaid interest, or other finance charges and any payments or credits. This gives us the daily balance.

Interest Charges may be calculated or determined by (1) multiplying each of the average daily balances by the number of days each daily periodic rate was in effect (2) multiplying each of the results by the applicable daily periodic rate, and (3) adding these products together. (All of these numbers can be found in the table called "Interest Charge Calculation". Each average daily balance is disclosed as Balance Subject to Interest Rate. The daily periodic rate is the Annual Percentage Rate divided by 365, except in leap years when it will be divided by 366.)

For all accounts except Fixed Rate Ready Credit accounts - the Daily Periodic Rate and the corresponding Annual Percentage Rate may vary.

We may report information about your account to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults on your account may be reflected in your credit report.

Billing Rights Summary:

What To Do If You Think You Find a Mistake on your Statement

If you think there is an error on your statement, write to us at the address shown on the front of the statement under the heading "For Billing Inquiries or Credit Bureau Disputes write to this Address." In your letter, give us the following information:

- Account information: Your name and account number
- Dollar amount: The dollar amount of the suspected error
- Description of the Problem: If you think there is an error on your bill, describe what you believe is wrong and why you believe it is a mistake.

You must contact us within 60 days after the error appeared on your statement. You must notify us of any potential errors in writing. You may call us, but if you do we are not required to investigate any potential errors and you may have to pay the amount in question. While we investigate whether or not there is an error, the following are true:

- We cannot try to collect the amount in question, or report you as delinquent on that amount.
- The charge in question may remain on your statement, and we may continue to charge you interest on that amount. But, if we determine that we made a mistake, you will not have to pay the amount in question or any interest or other fees related to that amount.
- While you do not have to pay the amount in question, you are responsible for the remainder of your balance.
- We can apply any unpaid amount against your credit limit.

Your Rights If You Are Dissatisfied With Your Credit Card Purchases

If you are dissatisfied with the goods or services that you have purchased with your credit card and you have tried in good faith to correct the problem with the merchant, you may have the right not to pay the remaining amount due on the purchase.

To use this right, all of the following must be true:

1. The purchase must have been made in your home state or within 100 miles of your current mailing address, and the purchase price must have been more than $50.
(Note: Neither of these are necessary if your purchase was based on an advertisement we mailed to you, or if we own the company that sold you the goods or services.)
2. You must have used your credit card for the purchase. Purchases made with cash advances from an ATM or with a check that accesses your credit card account do not qualify.
3. You must not yet have fully paid for the purchase.

If all of the criteria above are met and you are still dissatisfied with the purchase, contact us in writing at the address on your statement under the heading "For Billing Inquiries or Credit Disputes write to us at this address:"

While we investigate, the same rules apply to the disputed amount as discussed above. After we finish our investigation, we will tell you our decision. At that point, if we think you owe an amount and you do not pay we may report you as delinquent.
