Description of Terms

This is not a complete description of your Contract's provisions/terms, conditions, limitations, charges and expenses. Please refer to your Contract and to your EQUI-VEST prospectus for complete information. In the event of a conflict, the terms of your Contract will govern.

Account at a Glance shows the financial transactions for the period being reported that affected the Total Account Value. (All numbers in parentheses are negative).

Description of Terms (con't)

Accumulation Units is the number of units of an investment fund that you own; the number of units in any investment fund does not change unless you make additional contributions, make a withdrawal, or transfer amounts among investment options. In addition, any charges will reduce the number of units in your account.

Administrative/Transaction Charges are charges deducted from your account value periodically (e.g., administrative charge), at contract termination, or at the time you request a transaction. Administrative/Transaction Charges do not include the daily Separate Account Charge or Portfolio Operating Expenses, which are incorporated in the calculation of your Net Investment Portfolio Results but are not otherwise itemized on this account statement. The capitalized terms used here are explained in the Description of Terms section of this account statement. See your EQUI-VEST contract and your prospectus for a complete description of all charges and expenses.

Base Contract Expense is a daily charge by Equitable for mortality and expense risks, including your death benefit. The Base Contract Expense, also referred to as the Separate Account Charge, is deducted against daily net assets in each variable investment option and incorporated in the calculation of the Net Investment Portfolio Results.

Contributions and Additions includes initial and all subsequent contributions made to your Contract.

Current Asset Allocation is a graphical illustration depicting your allocation of current investment selections by asset type.

Death Benefit is equal to the greater of the total account value or the minimum death benefit provided under your Contract.

IRA means an individual retirement annuity which is either a traditional IRA or a Roth IRA.

Net Investment Portfolio Results is the return for the period from all of your investment options: the Variable Investment Option(s), the Guaranteed Interest Option, the Structured Investment Option and the Fixed Maturity Option, as applicable. This is the amount by which the Total Account Value has changed due to investment results and/or market value adjustments, including the deduction of the daily Separate Account Charge and Portfolio Operating Expenses.

Net Transfers is any reallocation of account value within the investment options identified.

Plan Operating Expenses is any withdrawals made based on the instructions of the Employer or its designee, which are remitted according to such instructions.

Portfolio Operating Expenses is a daily charge by each portfolio for expenses from its purchase, holding, and disposition of investments that you pay as a percentage of the value of your investment. Portfolio Operating Expenses are reflected in the unit values shown and incorporated in the calculation of the Net Investment Portfolio Results.

Portfolio Summary shows the Total Account Value and the Investment Option(s) that are in effect at the end of the period. For each Variable Investment Option and Segment Type Holding Account, the number of units, the Unit Value and the Account Value of the Investment Option(s) are shown. For each Segment, the Segment Interim Value is shown.

Separate Account Charge is a daily charge by Equitable for mortality and expense risks, including your death benefit. The Separate Account Charge, also referred to as the Base Contract Expense, is deducted against daily net assets in each variable investment option and incorporated in the calculation of the Net Investment Portfolio Results.

Total Account Value shows the sum of the amounts in the account at the end of the reporting period. You may receive less than the Total Account Value if you terminate your contract. See the prospectus for details.

Unit Value is the current dollar value of each accumulation unit in an investment fund. The Unit Value depends on the investment performance of the investment fund, minus daily Separate Account Charges and Portfolio Operating expenses.

Withdrawals includes lump sum, partial, systematic, and minimum distribution withdrawals from the Total Account Value.
