Need-to-Know Information

Call Before You Dig . . . It's the Law

Whether you're laying a foundation for a building or planting a tree, you must first check for the existence of underground utility lines and cables. If you or your contractor disrupt any of these lines, the results can be dangerous – and costly – to everyone.

Call before you dig, toll-free, 1-800-272-4480 (in New York City and Long Island) or 1-800-962-7962 (in all other areas of the state) or 811 from anywhere in the state.

Be Prepared for a Power Outage

It Pays to Use a Corded Phone. Did you know that during a power outage, a corded telephone can continue to provide phone service where a cordless phone might not? (A corded phone has a handset that is directly wired to the base.) That's because a corded phone doesn't usually need to be plugged into an electrical outlet in order to work. Most corded phones get power directly through Verizon telephone lines. If you are a Verizon FiOS (fiber optic service) customer, the backup power is supplied by an on-premise battery back-up unit, which is part of the FiOS installation. Battery back-up provides approximately eight hours of voice service in the event of a power outage.

It's a smart idea to keep at least one corded phone in your home and business. That way, if electrical power is lost, you'll still be able to make and receive phone calls. And, by the way, a corded phone is also the better choice to protect your privacy when providing credit card information or other sensitive data over the telephone. It's technically possible to intercept conversations or information entered on a cordless phone by using anything from a sophisticated eaves-dropping device to a simple baby monitor. Using a corded phone can help protect your financial information and reduce the risk of identity fraud.

Important Changes to the New York White Pages Directory:

Beginning with the 2011 directories, the majority of the Verizon telephone directories delivered in New York will not include residence White Page listings. Directories will still include the business and government White Pages, information pages, and the Yellow Pages. The primary purpose of this change is to reduce the environmental impact of printed directories. Customers will still be able to get White Page listings information at NO CHARGE in the following ways:

- 1 – Call 1-800-888-8448 and request a paper copy of the residence White Page listings, or a copy of the listings on a CD-ROM;
- 2 – Access the White Page listings at www.verizon.com/whitepages

Federal Universal Service Fund Surcharge

Your Federal Universal Service Fund (FUSF) surcharge may change effective on or about October 1, 2011. The FUSF surcharge, which is authorized by the FCC and reviewed quarterly, provides funding for programs to keep local telephone rates affordable for all customers and to provide discounts to schools, libraries, rural health care providers and low-income families.

Automated System Lets You "Freeze" or "Unfreeze" Your Carrier Choices

By dialling into Verizon's automated system and following the prompts, you can "freeze" or "unfreeze" the telephone company you choose to carry your regional toll and/or long distance calls. Freezing your selection means that your choice of carrier cannot be changed unless you first remove the freeze. This helps provide additional protection against unauthorized changes to your selected carrier—also known as "slamming". There is no cost to freeze or unfreeze your choice of carrier.

You can access the automated system, toll free, by calling 1 800 305-4838, Monday through Saturday from 6 am to 9 pm. When you use the system, you will be requested to enter your ten-digit telephone number and your customer code. Your customer code is the six-digit number that directly follows your telephone number on page one of your Verizon bill. This six-digit code appears only on your bill and should not be known to anyone who does not have access to your bill. We ask you to provide the code in order to prevent anyone other than you from using the system to freeze or unfreeze your choice of carrier. You can call from any telephone.

A touch-tone phone is necessary to use the system (rotary phone customers must speak with a service representative). Customers with more than one telephone line have the option to freeze or unfreeze by individual line or by account (an account can include billing for multiple lines).

You can separately freeze or unfreeze your choice of regional and long distance carrier as often as you choose. Through voice prompts, the automated system will guide you through the available options.
