[illegible]

If the shipment were an exchange point for a carrier by water, the law implies that the bill of lading shall state whether it is a "certificate" or shipper's weight. If the latter, it is dependent on value; shippers are required to state specifically the agreed or declared value of the property. If the former, it is dependent on value; shippers are required to state specifically the agreed or declared value of the property. If the latter, it is dependent on value; shippers are required to state specifically the agreed or declared value of the property. If the former, it is dependent on value; shippers are required to state specifically the agreed or declared value of the property.
